Brighten Your Outdoor Scene

Now that Santa Claus has come to town, it's time to start designing and planning the colorful outdoor lighting for the home that will shine forth to say Merry Christmas to everyone.

The sooner householders start work on their own interpretations of this gay Yuletide tradition, the better can be the effects that will be achieved.

An exceptional demand for the comparatively inexpensive electrical wiring gadgets and colored lights that will be needed, is expected this year.

Annual investment of American home folk in observing this brilliant tradition is now estimated by Joseph H. Ward, executive vice-president of Noma Electric Corporation, as being in excess of $80,000,000, which is a tribute to American Christmas spirit.

Men of the equipment required is carried over from year to year, which means that the tradition is growing apace.

While lighting of public buildings and downtown trees would appear to predominate in some cities, home lighting is most popular of all as far as the national picture is concerned.

It is not the expense but the inventiveness and artistry of the family that produces the most effective outdoor Christmas time home lighting. Taking into consideration the physical lines of the house and the trees and shrubbery in the front yard, gives householders a starting point for their lighting.

Doorways and windows offer excellent patterns to be outlined in colored lights.

A good trick is to intertwine holly or pine branches with strings of light and then place them along the eaves. Lights in flower boxes twinkle merrily. Flood lights, sometime with color screen, sometimes without, will lend lustre to the plan.

Experts suggest some precautions for safety's sake in all weather. Never use strings of lights with worn insulation. Be sure your lights are designed for outdoor use. Always arrange lights before you plug the string into a socket.

When putting up or taking down strings, remove lights first to avoid breakage and waste. Though lights are of low wattage never put too many on one circuit.

Many communities throughout the country have local Christmas lighting competitions. In some instances there are competitions between cities. Usually Christmas lighting contests are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

KRIS KRINGLE AND SANTA NOT ALIKE

Contrary to popular belief, Kris Kringle is not a German term of endearment for Santa Claus. The name is actually a modification of "Kristkind," who according to German legend is a gift-giver, but does not resemble Santa Claus in the least. Candlelight gleams from all of the quiet houses in the Bavarian countryside, lighting the way and showing bright welcome to the "Kristkind" on her way from home to home. She is the messenger of the Infant Jesus, and Bavarian children believe that she is the one who brings them their gifts. According to legend, she wears a white robe, with golden wings, carries a small Christmas tree in her hand and wears a crown.

Try This Dressing For Your Turkey

One cup soft bread crumbs, 1 cup sliced nuts (use almonds, Brazils or hazel nuts); large chopped onion; chopped parsley; 1 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon black pepper; 1/2 teaspoon thyme; 1/4 teaspoon paprika; 1 egg slightly beaten; 3 tablespoons hot water; 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

For a Fluffy Dressing. Mix all the ingredients thoroughly, pile into a greased, medium-sized baking dish.

For Dressing Sticks. Press dressing onto a greased cooking sheet about 5 by 7 inches. Chill in refrigerator for about 15 minutes, then cut into long strips about 1 inch thick.

For either method bake 10-15 minutes in moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) oven. Serves six.

GIVE BED JACKET

Make those moments of luxury when she breakfasts in bed truly precious any way she looks at them. Surprise her with a bed jacket or cape. Choose it in a sumptuous fabric such as satin or a soft knit, in color scheme of the room around her.

Here Is Recipe for Christmas Egg-Nog

The following recipe will serve about 25 persons:

6 eggs, 2/3 cup sugar, 1 1/2 quarts milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 quarts light cream, 2 tablespoons vanilla, 1 cup heavy cream, and grated nutmeg.

Beat eggs and sugar together until the sugar is all dissolved. Add milk, salt and then chill in the refrigerator overnight, or for a minimum of four hours.

When ready to serve, add chilled light cream and then the vanilla. Pour into punch bowl. Beat cold heavy cream until real frothy, pour over eggnog; sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

'Get Personal!' They Love It

Christmas is always more fun if you can find gifts to give that rate a welcome out of all proportions to the actual cost. Your friends are appreciative of your thoughtfulness and you get a lift of spirits because you're such a clever, budget-wise shopper!

If you have a long list of friends you want to remember at Christmas with gifts that are greeted with exclamations of delight, personalized gifts are the answer.

Low in cost, they have that special "just-for-you" touch that makes them such distinctive gifts.

Also starring in the gift picture are hosts of gay, knick-

"always losing things." Cleverly-designed key cases, gadgets to fasten her gloves to her purse or to hang her handbag to the restaurant table make welcome gifts.

These, and dozens of other new gift suggestions, are just the sort that will make wonderful little gifts to surprise her on Christmas.

Any one of them will make a gay, thoughtful messenger to delight a friend at Christmas-time.
